Drake and 21 Savage land on the cover of 'Vogue'

Jon Powell

Mon, October 31, 2022 at 8:12 AM · 2 min read

Drake and 21 Savage

This Friday (Nov. 4), Drake and 21 Savage will unveil their joint album, Her Loss, to the masses. Before that takes place, the chart-topping duo revealed that they've landed on the cover of Vogue's latest issue. Taking to Instagram, Drake thanked the magazine's editor-in-chief for the opportunity:

"My and my brother on newsstands tomorrow!! Thanks [Vogue Magazine] and Anna Wintour for the love and support on this historic moment..."

Drake and 21 Savage first announced the album through their music visual for "Jimmy Cooks," the final track on Drizzy's summer drop Honestly, Nevermind. That release saw the Canadian star delving into electronic subgenres with the aid of noted producers like &ME, Black Coffee, Gordo, Rampa, and more. Honestly, Nevermind became Drake's eleventh number one on the Billboard 200 thanks to 204,000 first-week album-equivalent units sold. Meanwhile, 21 Savage and Metro Boomin teamed up for the sequel to their critically acclaimed project Savage Mode in 2020, complete with additional contributions from Drake, Young Thug, Young Nudy, and actor Morgan Freeman, the last of who handled narration duties on the 15-song effort.

In a past interview with GQ, 21 opened up about his relationship with his OVO counterpart and why he deserves more credit than he's received during his career:

"He did a lot of st he didn't have to do. He do a lot of st for up-and-coming rappers, period. I don't think he get his respect for that. Every fkin' year, he pull a new artist up. While Drake and 21 Savage delayed the release of their upcoming surprise album Her Loss earlier this week, the rollout continues with the two rappers appearing on the cover of iconic fashion bible Vogue.

FEATURED VIDEOS

The Toronto native announced they were pushing back the project just a week after announcing the surprise collaboration. Drake revealed via his Instagram Story that his longtime producer Noah "40" Shebib, contracted covid during the middle of album production.

However, according to Drake, 40 is “resting up,” and Her Loss is due to arrive later this week on Friday, Nov. 4.

Drake and 21 Savage took to Instagram to share a joint post marking their “historic moment” with Vogue.

Me and my brother on newsstands tomorrow!!,” the caption read. “Thanks @voguemagazine and Anna Wintour for the love and support on this historic moment.”

Meanwhile, after teaming up with 21 Savage earlier this month for homecoming, Drake reunited with his Cash Money Records mentor, Lil Wayne, at Lil WeezyAna Fest in New Orleans this weekend.

After entertaining the audience with his headlining set, Lil Wayne introduced a surprise guest. "Can you please make some noise for this foreigner? Let's show him a good time in America," Weezy said before Drake joined him onstage.

"New Orleans is one of the few cities that shaped my career," Drake told the crowd, paying homage to the city.

Drake gave Vogue a shout-out on the 21 Savage-assisted “Jimmy Cooks” which landed on his Honestly, Nevermind album in June and topped the Billboard Hot 100.

“Bitch, don’t tell me that you model if you ain’t been in Vogue,” he raps.

Drake and 21 Savage announced their Her Loss joint project in the “Jimmy Cooks” video on October 22. The album was slated to arrive on (October 28) but with Noah “OVO 40” Shebib contracting COVID-19 last week, Drizzy decided to push the album back to November 4.

The pair joined forces on numerous occasions in the past, such as 2021’s “Knife Talk,” 2020’s “Mr. Right Now,” and 2016’s “Sneakin.”

Earlier this month (October 19), 21 Savage surprised the crowd at the Morehouse-Spelman homecoming concert at the Forbes Arena in Atlanta by having Drake pop up to perform “Jimmy Cooks” live for the first time.

Drake & 21 Savage Make History On The Cover Of "Vogue"

Oct 31 2022 9:40 am

By Hayley Hynes

Bitch, don't tell me that you model if you ain't been in "Vogue."

Drake and 21 Savage fans didn't hold back on expressing their disappointment last Friday (October 28) when the long-time collaborators shared the news that their surprise collaborative project, Her Loss, has been delayed for one more week due to an unexpected bout of COVID-19 for their producer, 40.

While they've since confirmed that we'll be hearing the highly anticipated album this coming Friday (November 4), in the meantime, Drizzy has shared the exciting news that he and the Saint Laurent Don will be the ones to grace the cover of the latest

Drake & 21 Savage - Jimmy Cooks

“Me and my brother on newsstands tomorrow,” the father of one shared via his Instagram feed on Sunday (October 30), providing his 123M followers with a sneak peak of the shoot, which finds the “Jimmy Cooks” artists wearing all black ensembles, 21 covering his face with his hand while Drake looks on from behind.

“Thanks @voguemagazine and Anna Wintour for the love and support on this historic moment,” the Canadian continued, before reminding readers that the duo’s joint record will be dropping in just a few days.

The accompanying cover story has yet to be released, but when it is, you can rest assured it will be loaded with all kinds of juicy information about the prolific rhyimers and their work – both past, present, and future.

Aside from landing on the cover of Vogue, both Drake and 21 Savage have been busy celebrating their birthdays over the past week or so, with the latter turning 36 on October 24th, while the former turned 30 on October 22nd and celebrated with a Freaknik-themed party for the second year in a row.

Champagne Papi was also spotted down in New Orleans this past weekend, where he surprised patrons at Lil Wayne's Lil WeezyAna Festival, not hesitating to call out the Young Money boss for failing to uphold their old tradition of bringing the Degrassi alum out onstage to sing "Mrs. Officer."

Check out Drake's unexpected appearance below, and tap back in with HNHH later for more hip-hop news updates.
